

Caspar McCloud Missionary Tour to U.K

Many of us first met Caspar when we watched the TBN Video that chronicles his miraculous healing. He dropped to the floor during a worship service, and it was not some 'falling out' in the Spirit. His heart was actually no longer beating, and he had no pulse. A doctor and a nurse in the congregation confirmed this, and there wasn't enough time for 911 to arrive before something had to be done quickly to save his life.

How many of you know when there's no pulse, you need God? He was then prayed for and literally raised from the dead after the pastor of that congregation cast the spirit of death out of him in the presence of many witnesses. His miraculous testimony still encourages. The video, which you can still watch on YouTube, is just the beginning of knowing the heart of this gentle giving man, his love for God, and the depth of prayer and ministry Caspar does on a daily basis.

What few know is that Caspar has been ministering for many years and is the Senior Pastor at the Upper Room Fellowship in Georgia. He daily he pours his life and gifts out to minister healing and blessing to others on the front lines at great personal cost to himself and his family. It is not an easy road to pass on a secular music career in the limelight, and trust God with everything in you, especially if you have a family who needs you to care for them as well. Past fame and popularity can make you a target for public exposure and misunderstanding, as the world does not understand the miraculous power of God.

Yet with a clear pure heart of "freely you have received, freely give," Caspar continues to follow and obey God much like how David, in obscurity, cared for the flock entrusted to him. That preparation served David well as God raised him and prospered him because he was a man after God's own heart. As surely as God knows you and I deeply, He knows Caspar's heart of great caring for people. I'd like you to get to know him a little, so you know how to pray, to encourage and to support him as he follows God's lead to travel to the UK in faith on a missionary tour this fall to extend God's blessing back to Great Britain.

It takes prompting from God, confirmation, and subsequent planning and resource to follow God's lead and to trust others to care for church and home while traveling overseas. This is not something done lightly or without lots of prayer. It is even more challenging when a gifted, talented, artist and musician divests himself of the secular venues for compensation in order to give of himself in ways our culture considers "of no reputation," but then we know Some One who also made himself of no reputation to love and give Himself for us. Caspar's just being another 'son', responding to the desires of Our All-loving "Dad." That being said, it is a huge undertaking and requires prayer and practical financial help, and so I'm writing to share and encourage you to support Caspar, and to help him as he travels to the United Kingdom to pour blessing there this fall. Come hear how his commission to go back to the UK came about, in Caspar's own words. He tells the story of how God prompted him, and shares a bit about their needs:

"About six months ago while praying, I heard the Lord say, 'I am sending you back to the UK this year to minister in My name.' I thought maybe I heard wrong. I really do not have that desire much anymore; the long flights, time changes, leaving my family and church even for a few weeks.

A little later I checked my email and my music agent friend Steve Nagel asked what it would take to bring me and my band Three to the UK? About an half-hour later I find a Facebook note from a women in London who just watched my teaching series, Exposing the Spirit of Self-Pity (now a book on Amazon), saying she repented as she recognized the truth I was sharing.

A few days later, I got a call from a passionate Irishman named Pat Buckley, whom I'd previously never met or spoken to before, who said that as he was praying the Lord told him to accompany me to minister in the UK. This was quite the shock as I had not spoken to anyone publicly about going to Britain to minister at that point. It turned out that he worked with Curry Blake in John G. Lake's ministry and held large crusades in Pakistan with Hamilton Filmalter where some 150,000 people gathered for open-air healing meetings. Many were saved and converted and supernaturally healed by the Lord Jesus. So I prayed with my wife, Joan, and she agreed it appears the Lord is calling me back to the UK. In the United Kingdom, mosques are replacing churches at a very alarming rate. We'll be ministering through music, sharing my 2001 testimony shown on TBN and preaching a message to share Christ's love with those who desperately need to hear the Gospel. We would really appreciate your prayers for this mission. You can really make a world of difference as we go to reach out to those people who are lost, hurting and feeling unwanted."

Why not contact Caspar personally and ask him to share more of what God has put on his heart? He can be reached at: pastorcaspar@gmail.com. Travel to the U.K. and equipment needing to be transported means that finances are need to cover basic expenses. They have an immediate need to raise at least $4000 to help cover the cost of travel. There's no big record label sponsoring this journey, so he is trusting God while many expenses are coming directly out of pocket. The Upper Room Fellowship is a 501c3 organization, so if God puts it on your heart to donate, it is tax-deductible. Caspar is actively involved in Facebook and social networking. When you help support God's work this way you can't help but be blessed in return, as God loves a cheerful giver. Not everyone can leave home or is called to go on such a Mission to other parts of the world. Pastor Caspar has deep roots in the UK, and the Lord has arranged for him to reach many people with the Gospel there. When you send in your prayers and contributions, it is like helping equip and send forth an army of Christian soldiers right out of your prayers and giving.

When you deal with God you need faith, and when you travel to minister to people, finances are needed. Pastor Caspar believes "No one is ever too far gone to still receive the awesome gift of salvation. No sinner can't be saved, we learn from the life example of the Apostle Paul. The Lord Jesus suffered and died on that cross for all the sins of this world, and He lives now forever and is still willing to offer the gift of salvation to anyone who will receive the Good News. But we can all see the time is getting short. The Lord Jesus tells us to not be ignorant of these times. When you see what we are seeing played out on the world stage then know that He is about to return for His church. Let us keep the Holy Fire in our hearts continually burning with the great commission.' Consider sending Caspar a gift for this mission which will surely be put to good use to help save a soul you might not be able to reach any other way

"Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver." 2 Corinthians 9:7

They are expecting a good harvest. The first event will be October 28th 2012 with well known worship artist Noel Richards in the West Midlands. Caspar thanks you for your care and interest, and he'd love to hear from you. When asked what else I should share with you, Caspar said:

May the Lord use and bless you in your faithfulness...," - that's all of you reading this - "...always. In Christ's love!"
